11:00 – 11:30 Tech workshops - choose 1
Kong API Platform Explore how Kong make it easier for DWP engineers to innovate and improve the lives of UK citizens. 83% of web traffic is through APIs, and digitising business process to provide enriched, joined-up experiences depends on them. In our increasingly distributed IT landscapes, however, building, managing, and consuming APIs gets harder and harder to do properly.
Opencast This workshop will be around the lessons from our recent work with DWP. Opencast’s team within DWP Health, help design a service to support and influence UK employers to prevent health-related job loss. We’ll discuss and highlight ideas and outputs from the project, and how it will support employers and employees in the post-pandemic world.
MongoDB Data Platform Learn about Atlas (Database-as-a-Service) and Realm (Platform-as-a-Service and mobile database) This workshop will get you up and running with a MongoDB Atlas database cluster and a Realm backend app.
